

JAMES O. EASTLAND COLLECTION
FILE SERIES 2: PUBLIC RELATIONS
SUBSERIES 7: SCRAPBOOKS

This subseries contains nineteen boxes holding thirty-one scrapbooks dating from 1945 through 1978. Although mostly consisting of newspaper clippings, the formats involved also include photographs and a variety of documents. Several of the scrapbooks document an array of topics, although many concentrate on themes that include the Internal Security Subcommittee; the Judiciary Committee; the International Union of Mine, Mill, and Smelters; Mississippi politics; and the integration of the University of Mississippi. These volumes also focus on specific aspects of Eastland's career, such as his 1954 campaign, his position as President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and his time as Acting Vice President of the United States. Two 1978 scrapbooks relate to "Jim Eastland Day" in Meridian, Mississippi.

Many of the scrapbook covers have been discarded due to mold. Curators made photocopies or digital images of any covers or spines containing textual information and placed these copies with the original scrapbook pages. In two cases, mold had infested the interior of the scrapbooks: for the scrapbook in Box 1, curators made photocopies of the entire scrapbook; and for scrapbook B in Box 6, a digital copy is available in the James O. Eastland Collection Manuscripts digital collection (only accessible via J.D. Williams Library Computer terminals).
